

Element Console

DESALTO

DESIGN TOKUJIN YOSHIOKA
DESALTO, ITALY

Element is a symbol of purity and poetry, the essence of the visionary designer Tokujin Yoshioka's style. The heart of the Element project lies in the single central support for the table. A metal parallelepiped that is reminiscent in its form of the minerals and quartzes found in nature, is positioned at a slant. This central support, delicately balanced between the two horizontal elements, appears to challenge the laws of gravity.

The Element range includes a collection of tables; dining, low and console and a totemic side chair, well suited to standing alone as a signature piece or as a sculptural element.
