DESIGN DIRK WINKEL
WÄSTBERG, SWEDEN

The w225 Ion collection, designed by Berlin based Dirk Winkel for Wästberg, is a striking series of lighting fixtures that merge modern design with functional innovation. Inspired by the natural world, the Ion collection features a range of lights that offer both visual impact and efficient lighting solutions, making them perfect for a variety of interior settings.

Crafted from high-quality materials, each piece in The w225 Ion Collection is designed with a minimal yet bold aesthetic. The collection includes task and wall lamps, each with a unique form that provides soft, ambient light while drawing attention with its sculptural design. Whether used individually or in a cluster, the Ion collection adds sophistication and character to any space.

With their clean lines and balanced proportions, The w225 Ion lights work effortlessly in modern interiors, from living rooms and offices to hospitality spaces. Offering a perfect combination of form, function, and elegance, the Ion collection elevates any environment with its contemporary, design-driven approach to lighting.
